SILVER SCARE.

The Democrats Afraid of the Issue.

How Springer and Others Would Like to Shelve the Question.

Proposed International Conference at the World's Fair.

A Plan by Which a Vexatious Issue in the Party's Politics May be Eliminated Till After the Election.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—[By the Associated Press.] The silver question is a legislative issue once more, awakening the liveliest apprehension of both parties at the national capital. During the past few days this topic has been the subject of more discussion than tariff reform. But there is suddenly manifested among the Democratic leaders a disposition to prevent the silver question reaching the dignity of a paramount issue to the prejudice of tariff reform. It is said measures will be taken to stamp the financial question as a secondary issue. Representative Springer of Illinois, Senator Carlisle of Kentucky, Senator Palmer of Illinois and Representative O'Neill of Massachusetts are a few of the prominent Democrats said to believe that the best solution of the silver question is in an international agreement and will favor a bill now being prepared for the regulation of the matter to an international congress to be held in Chicago in 1893. Such a disposition of the question by Congress would of course prevent the silver question becoming a harassing issue in the coming campaign, and enable the fierce political battle of 1892 to be fought upon the burning issues of tariff reform.

Representative Springer is the course he thought should be pursued by the Democratic party in this Congress on the question. Representative Springer tonight said to an Associated Press reporter: "The course I've heretofore pursued is well known. I'm a bimetallist and can't support any policy which would regulate silver to the rear or eliminate it from politics. On the contrary I would make it a great national and international question and would set it upon lines as broad as possible and at the earliest time practicable. That which is desirable and may be attained ought to be the aim of all legislation. What then is attainable in this Congress so far as I am concerned? It would be next to impossible for both Houses to agree upon a silver bill of any kind. Even should an agreement be reached between the two houses, securing free coinage or making more liberal provisions in that direction, the President is bound to veto it. The bill will be vetoed by the party is divided upon that question. I do not think the silver question has yet received adequate consideration by the people."

Continuing, Carlisle said to the reporter: "An international congress for the solution of the silver question is, I think, the only practical thing that can be done at this time. Of course agitation of the question can go on indefinitely without accomplishing practical results, but if a monetary conference can agree upon some plan which would receive the approval of the countries interested the whole question may be satisfactorily settled. The agitation now going on is doing harm all the time, whereas the proposed plan might bring about a satisfactory result."

Continuing, Carlisle said: "I have been for a long time in favor of such a conference. I believe in the use of both gold and silver, and were the conditions reversed, and gold at a discount compared with silver, I would favor measures restoring them to a parity. I think a measure properly framed will pass both houses of Congress, though I do not think a good policy for the Democratic party to adopt a free coinage platform, as the party is divided upon that question. I do not think the silver question has yet received adequate consideration by the people."

Senator Palmer of Illinois readily acknowledged that he was in favor of the proposed bill for an international congress, saying that he saw no other means of determining the parity of gold and silver. Discussions now going on in the country in regard to the silver question are valuable and must go on until the public mind reaches something like a common ground of agreement. A free coinage platform for the Democratic party is simply impossible, as the party is divided on the question. An international congress is the only means of reaching a satisfactory decision.

Representative Springer said to the reporter: "The situation carries us then to March 4, 1893, when the present Congress expires by limitation of law. The next Congress, elected in November next, will not assemble till December, 1893. This is the earliest time possible to enter upon the consideration of measures which may hereafter be enacted regarding the coinage of silver. Can anything be done in the meantime to enable Congress to reach a proper conclusion on the silver question when the time arrives at which practicable legislation may be entered upon? This, it seems to me, is a practicable question for the consideration of the present Congress. This Congress could pass an act authorizing the assembling of an international monetary congress, whose object shall be to formulate, subject to the approval of the countries they represent, a uniform monetary system and fix the relations which gold or silver should have to each other. It seems most appropriate that this international congress should be held in Chicago during the World's Fair. It should be a congress, not a secession conference or convention, and should have a large representation of this Government and others with which we maintain diplomatic relations. The proceedings should be published the same as the proceedings of Congress. It would become a great educational agency for the enlightenment of the people of all countries on the subject. The United States representatives should be appointed by the president of the Senate and Speaker, at least seven by each, not more than four of whom should be members of the same political party; and who should represent the different shades of opinion on the subject. It might be well to authorize the Secretary of State and Director of the Mint to act as United States representatives."

Voluntary Testimonials

GIVEN TO

DR. WOH,
The Eminent Chinese Physician.

No Opiates or Poisonous Drugs are used in my Practice.

Hands and Medicines are used in my Practice.

Dr. Woh's life work has been from early youth one of persistent and untiring observation, study and investigation, as fully as lay in his power to perfect himself in all branches of the art of healing human sickness and disease.

Born in China, of influential parents, of a family whose ancestors have been for generations deservedly renowned as leading physicians, Dr. Woh naturally followed in the footsteps of his fathers. In China he has practiced his profession for several years, being at one time a physician in the Imperial Hospital, and in America for a long time. His great number of patients, his wonderful and many cures, and the great list of letters from grateful and thankful patrons, now prove him to be a remarkable and successful healer of sickness and all diseases.

For a long time I have been suffering with bladder and kidney troubles. No doctoring or medicine seemed to do me good, and I sought the best physician in Los Angeles city. They gave me morphine and drugs, but no relief could I obtain. After a few months I was again having my passage almost entirely clogged. I fourteen days ago began using Dr. Woh's medicines. Today I am perfectly well. I do consider Dr. Woh the most successful physician in Southern California.

DR. WOH.—I have doctored with the best physicians of San Francisco for the head cold, but I am still as bad as ever. Three days ago I was recommended to you and began your treatment; before this, I was twice completely unable to work. I am now as well as ever, but today I am a well man and I thank you alone for my recovery. Respectfully,

In Cleveland, Ohio, many months ago I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs, terminating in asthma. The doctors said there was no hope of my recovery, but that I should not live long.

February last I came to see Dr. Bergardino and doctored with three physicians but obtained no relief, finally Dr. Woh was recommended to me. I took his medicine and medicines followed his directions and today I am perfectly well.

LOS ANGELES THEATER—Captain Swift.

LAWYER MARY A. GREENE of the Boston bar is delivering lectures at the Lasell Seminary in Auburndale, Mass., on legal points most important to women.

The Chino Champion reports that the cattle which Mr. Gird has fattened on beet pulp have turned out most satisfactory. The beef is as juicy and tender as any of the boasted Eastern stall-fed, and is coming into great demand. Los Angeles can use some of that prime beef.

It is just as well that the examination of the Baltimore sailors has been allowed before Chile makes final answer to our demand for an explanation. The United States will now know what kind of an apology to require. The outrage on our Jack-tars was one which it will be hard for Chile to atone for.

It does not work well for a saloon-keeper to be a good customer for his own establishment. One of this kind in Memphis, Tenn., set fire to his saloon the other day, burning it to the ground, and afterward, when he was taken to jail in a fit of delirium tremens, he dashed his brains out against an iron bar.

MARIE JANSEN recently wrote in an autograph album:

Fame is but a breath of dust.

But—oblivion is solid mud.

The same book the golden-voiced Adelina Patti inscribed this sentiment in a fine Italian hand:

Go to strangers for charity, acquaintances for advice and to relatives for nothing, and you will have a supply.

The New York Times, though it is free trade to the core, is obliged to admit the sound financial condition of the country, and that "prosperity prevails in the agricultural regions where there was at the opening of the year, a good deal of distress." Yet the Times was dolefully prating of the terrible calamities that would come to the people because of the new tariff law.

A SINGULAR story is published to the effect that P. T. Barnum's remains were buried at night in a grave, the location of which is not generally known, the reason being that Mr. Barnum was much concerned over the safety of his body, and it was his wish that such a plan be carried out. He did not intend that any other showman should ever get an unfair advantage of him.

A RICHMOND, Va., dispatch states that the bond given by Jefferson Davis to the United States Government, that he would answer to the charge of treason in the United States Circuit Court in that city, has been stolen from the court records. The bond was signed by Horace Greeley, John Miner Botts, Gerritt Smith and other prominent persons. Somebody must have wanted it for a souvenir.

Two prominent and cultured citizens of Pasadena—Messrs. Farcy and Hart—have joined the Salvation Army at that place, and there is general surprise and some public comment on the fact. The question is raised whether they will come down to the slanty, whang-doodle methods in vogue, or whether they will elevate the tone of the company with which they are associated. It is to be hoped that the latter result will follow.

One of the things about the anti-boodle fight in San Francisco which is hard to understand is why the Examiner, which was most earnest and active in calling the recent meeting of citizens for a public expression on the subject, and which published the report of their proceedings with favorable comment, should open its columns on the following day to ridicule nearly everybody who took a prominent part in the meeting. The motives of San Francisco journalism are hard to find out.

THE public will await with much interest the reproduction of Mr. Guinn's part of the grand jury documents, which was paraded from the room just before the report was presented. If it contained matter which was worth somebody's efforts to steal that is the very matter which the public wish to get hold of. Probably the results of Mr. Guinn's investigations will go a long way toward sustaining the minority report of Foreman Bouton and Juror Blackman, and may command the subject of further investigation. Let us have nothing covered up.

A RATHER amusing case was tried in one of the Justice Courts of San Francisco the other day, John Boggs, ex-State Senator from Colusa county, and ex-prison director, met Attorney Clunie in a casual way during the time that the Taylor case was on trial, and he told the lawyer (who was counsel for Taylor) that if he would give the boodle-gang particular—he would buy the lawyer the best suit of clothes and overcoat to be found in San Francisco. After the trial was over Clunie, having administered his— to the boodle-gang, asked for his fee from Boggs, but that gentleman and statesman attempted to turn it off as a joke. Clunie thereupon ordered a suit of clothes and overcoat at the cost of $140, and then brought suit against Boggs for the payment. The best of it is that he won his case.

OUR FAMOUS CAPTAINS.

The Great Books for Veteran Soldiers and American Citizens.

There are thousands of comrades who fought during the war under the leadership of the four great generals, Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and McClellan, who would have purchased the memoirs of these historic captains when published had the price been placed at a reasonable figure. There is an opportunity now, however, as the Cosmopolitan Magazine of New York has purchased 600,000 volumes of the memoirs in the original subscription editions, bound in green and gold cloth, and is almost giving them away in connection with yearly subscriptions to that popular magazine. They contain the personal history of the great commanders, and form an indispensable part of the history of the country. No library, private or public, large or little, is complete without them.

By special contract THE TIMES is enabled to give its readers the benefit of this great offer, which is fully explained in our advertising pages. Never has a book had such a sale in the United States as "Gen. Grant's Memoirs." Over 650,000 copies have already gone into the homes of the rich, but the subscription price of $7 has placed it beyond the reach of people in moderate circumstances. If $60,000 people have been willing to pay $7 for "Grant's Memoirs," there must be some thousands more in California who will want them at the low price for which they are now offered by us. The edition which we are offering is the publishers' original edition, best paper, cloth, green and gold binding, hitherto sold by subscription for $7. Our offer is an extraordinary one.

A MENACE TO POPULAR GOVERNMENT.

While the most partisan newspapers have nothing to say in favor of that feature of practical politics called the gerrymander, there is one occasionally which puts up a plea in favor of "Michiganizing." This plan of choosing Presidential electors by Congressional districts, instead of by States, it is urged, brings the choice of a President nearer home to the people, and is the next thing to electing him by popular vote. This would be all right probably, if the success of Michiganizing were not dependent on the success of the gerrymander. The fact is that the people of many States do not have the utmost confidence in their legislatures, and do not care to delegate any more power to them than they are absolutely obliged to. We of California have abundant reason for such a prejudice. So long as ward politics in the larger cities is in the hands of ward politicians, dominated by a boss, the legislative representation from such quarters is sure to be anything but creditable. Even the representation from lesser cities and country districts does not always exemplify the average culture, the patriotism or the honesty of the constituency. When an unscrupulous and partisan legislature wishes to perform a monumental service for the political bosses about the first thing it does is to re-elect the State. In this fine Italian hand of the manipulator shows forth in so grouping counties or parts of counties together that the aggregate vote of the district will be sure to show a majority on the side desired. If the gerrymander is for the Democrats, then a Republican county or precinct is tacked on to enough Democratic counties or precincts to "swim it under," so to speak. There are many ways of manipulating the boundary lines, the net result of which may be like that in Ohio, where the districts, taken as entities, are mostly Democratic, while the popular vote of the State is largely Republican. This is not bringing the elections nearer the people, but it is the most infamous kind of a juggle with their votes. It is so thumbing them with the political thimble that the minority of the people exercise the pre-ponderating power in choosing the Congressional Representative. It is in effect defeating the will of the majority and therein defeating the plan of popular government.

We do not deny that the gerrymander has been employed by the Republican machine, just as it has been used by the Democratic machine. But that does not justify it by any means. It is fully as mischievous and subversive of the public rights on the one side as on the other. The evil is only intensified when it is regarded as a legitimate form of tactics on both sides, for the juggle of a Democratic legislature of one year may be reversed by the juggle of a Republican legislature at the next reapportionment, and thus each time a party comes into power it takes this undue advantage to keep in power.

Now, if we override the popular vote of the State in choosing Representatives to the National Congress, making it possible for the minority to control the delegation, and if, on top of this, we override the popular vote of the State in choosing Presidential electors, that effectively takes the choice of the National Government out of the hands of the majority. That is Michiganizing. If the incentive is great to manipulate the Congressional districts to secure the Congressmen, how much greater will it be when the Presidential prize is added?

FROM THE CAPITAL.

Indications of Another Quiet Week in Congress.

Senate Waiting for House and House Waiting for Rules.

The Question of Aid for Russian Sufferers May Come Up Anew.

Proposed Crusade Against the Fee System in Federal Offices — Some Postmasters' Perquisites May Be Lopped Off — National Notes.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—[By the Associated Press.] The Fifty-second Congress is now in the second month of its session, yet it has not materially advanced any legislation, nor is the present week likely to work any change in this particular. The Senate is waiting on the House, where appropriation bills must originate, and in the absence of rules conferring the necessary authority the House committees are unable to report measures. On the calendar of the Senate there is nothing of general interest and little prospect of reports coming from committees at an early day in the week, so that beyond listening to speeches and considering nominations in executive session there will be little for the Senate to do.

The House has no programme of business for the week. It is still embarked on the sea of general parliamentary practice, and until a code of rules is framed the course of proceeding will depend upon the conditions arising from day to day. The committees have as yet nothing more than effecting a resolution, so that it is unlikely any measures will be on the House's calendar for action before next week. Under the temporary order of the House, made to facilitate business prior to the adoption of a full set of rules, Monday will be devoted to the introduction of bills under the call of States. There is some opposition to the allowance of clerks to the smaller committees, which may lead to a prolonged debate on the necessity for economy in expenditures.

Mr. Blount, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, has moved a reconsideration of the vote by which the House refused to concur in the Senate resolution making an appropriation to charter a steamship for the relief of the Russian sufferers, and if an opportunity comes he will endeavor during the week to have the House agree to a reference of the resolution to the Foreign Affairs Committee.

THE FEE SYSTEM.

Efforts to Have it Abolished in Federal Offices.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—[By the Associated Press.] An effort will be made by a number of Democratic Representatives to have the Appropriations Committee recommend that the fee system in federal offices be abolished as far as can well be done. A number of Congressmen, especially in the Southern States, urge that the continuance of the fee system results in much hardship to the people in their States through deputy marshals and other court officers straining the law for the purpose of making cases in courts, thereby increasing the emoluments of officers. It is urged that the Government would really save a great deal of money by paying salaries to the employees necessary in fee offices, requiring all fees to be turned into the United States Treasury. Vigorous opposition, however, is expected to this reform. The Appropriations Committee has not yet got to work, and it is uncertain what will be the outcome.

One of the attempts to do away with perquisites in federal offices is of considerable interest to numerous postmasters of the first class throughout the country. At present stamped envelopes are furnished to postmasters at a cost of a fifth of a cent for each envelope. No profit is realized on these by the postmaster when he sells them in large lots. When sold singly or in small quantities there is a profit of four-fifths of a cent on each envelope, and Mr. O'Neill of Missouri, who intends to urge Congress to change the practice, says the result is a considerable profit to postmasters in receipt of regular fixed salaries. He will urge that house stamping be discontinued, and furnished at cost in 5-cent lots, the price of the stamp not included. The Government, he says, should not make a profit on these and other conveniences it furnishes the people, but should give them at cost whenever it is practicable and any profits arising should not go to salaried officers.

The Late Admiral Rodgers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—At a meeting of the Metropolitan Club this afternoon resolutions were passed of respect to the memory of the late Admiral Rodgers.

Church Factional Fight.

WILKESBARD (Pa.) Jan. 10.—The Hungarian Church at Plymouth was again the scene of disturbance today. One faction had become dissatisfied with the new priest, and they went into the church with revolvers and forced the submission of the other faction. Armed men are guarding the church tonight. Serious trouble is apprehended.

PERRISBURN, Jan. 10.—Father Miskiewicz, of the Polish Catholic Church, recently discharged his assistant, Father Pituski, who was a great favorite with the congregation, appointing Father Kalosinski in his stead. The congregation became incensed, and today a mob of 200 men followed the priest and the new assistant to their house, where they were held in a state of siege all day. This evening they had police protection on their way to church. Serious trouble is apprehended.

Congregation Asphyxiated.

TIFIN (O.) Jan. 10.—While services were being held in the Reformed Church this morning a young lady suddenly fainted. A few seconds after she was taken out fourteen other members of the congregation fainted. Physicians were immediately summoned and the sufferers restored to consciousness with great difficulty. The physicians say that the people were asphyxiated by natural gas escaping from a fire into the church. The entire congregation was affected and is still suffering.

Street Car Lines Tied Up.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 10.—Ten days ago President Frenzel, of the Citizens' Street Railway Company, took up all the badges of employees and notified them that except on strictly company business they must either pay fare or walk. This morning a strike was declared. The company then posted a notice that every man failing to report for duty by noon could consider himself discharged. The notice had no effect and there is not a street car running in the city today.

UNITED IN DEATH.

A Remarkable Freak of Nature Seen in a Graveyard.

Rosier (Mo.) Jan. 2.—[Correspondence.] One of the most remarkable freaks of nature was brought to light a few days ago by the changing of an old cemetery which was caused by the sale of a farm. Near an orchard a small portion of the farm had been set aside for the family burial place, and in this several bodies had been placed. The plot was so small that it became necessary to bury them close together, and the trees of the orchard overshadowed the grave. At the foot of an immense apple tree were the remains of William Smithson and his wife, who had been buried there about thirty years ago, when the tree was small. These two bodies were close together, the old couple having died within forty-eight hours of each other and were buried in the same grave.

When the farm was sold the children of the original owner thereof made arrangement to have the bodies removed to the cemetery at this town, and they began by taking up the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Smithson. When the diggers reached the coffin they were surprised to find that they could not raise them from the grave and an investigation revealed the fact that the tree had sent its roots into the grave and these roots had followed the forms of the dead couple in such a manner that the bodies had been completely replaced by wood, which had taken the exact form of the bodies. The strange part of the fact is that the root divided before it got to the head of the bodies and had followed closely the outline with the exception that a branch had crossed and joined the two in the region of the heart. No vestige of bone was to be found and the root was covered again and left undisturbed.

QUIET IN KANSAS.

Troops on Guard at Seward County—Contested Election Case Ended.

ANAKTON (Kan.) Jan. 10.—[By the Associated Press.] All is quiet at the seat of the Kansas war today. There will probably be no further trouble as long as the State troops remain at the scene. The probate judge who has been sitting as the contest court in the shrievalty contest rendered a decision late last night, in favor of E. S. Guyman, contestants. Guyman will be sworn in tomorrow and assume his duties at once. No trouble is anticipated over the result of the contest, although it is looked upon as a victory for the Botkin faction.

San Jose Gets the Championship.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The Pacific Coast championship series ended today, San Jose winning the championship title. The teams played two games. The Portlands were the first by a score of 3 to 0. In the eighth inning of the second game Everett ran over first base, kicking the ball away and reached second, where the umpire declared him safe. A row followed, and the Portlands withdrew from the field, the umpire awarding San Jose the game by a score of 9 to 0, making them the champions.

Bank Failures to be Investigated.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—The Press tomorrow will say that Congressman Matchler will offer a resolution empowering the Banking Committee to investigate the failures of the Spring Garden and Keystone banks to ascertain if they were due in any way to the negligence of the Government officials.

Bridal Tour on the Cable Car.

[Philadelphia Press.] It was pretty cold in the forward compartment of one of the Seventh and Ninth street cable cars last evening. The short benches on each side of the gripman were empty save for one figure—that of a petite and pretty brunette in a warm and gray cape ulster, with a big fur hood around her neck.

The conductor put his head through the door for a moment and came back chattering.

"Love is a funny thing," he said, as he got on the rear platform and rung up two fares. "There's Jim's wife in there with him. Jim's wife, you know, know. They've been married near two weeks, and I'm hanged if she hasn't put in the best half of the time riding round with him in the car. They couldn't afford to take a trip off, you see, and so they're putting the honeymoon in it this way.

"She's a little brat, though, I tell you," he went on as he started the car, after a pause to help on board a stout woman with seven packages, "and when I get married, if ever I do, I don't want no better. It gets pretty cold in there in the evening; but, bless you, she don't mind it. This is her last trip, and she never fails to take it with him. When he knocks 'em, off, they walk home together as happy as a pair of doves."

It was quite dark in the gripman's compartment, except for the glimmer from the store windows and the electric lights as the car shot past them. The stalwart young gripman would bend down once in a while to say a word or catch a glimpse of her face, and she seemed quite content to sit there and watch him as he jammed the grip handle up and pulled down on the brake.

"Yes, sir," said Jim, "we've been married two weeks tomorrow. Maybe you think a funny way to spend the honeymoon, and so it is. But it's Mary's doing. I'd saved up enough to take a week or so off, but she wouldn't have it. She says, 'We'll just have to go away for ten days, and I'll come and ride on the car with you.' Don't you put my name in the paper or maybe I'd get the bounce. The company might object, though I don't see why they should, for she pays her fare every time she gets on."

Where Grip Cured the Asthma.

[Prescott (Ariz.) Journal-Miner.] While most of people stand in mortal dread of a grippe, with all its dangerous complications, there is one man in Prescott who sings its praises. That man is John G. Campbell, the son of his apparently unusually sensible sentiment in regard to this disease is explained by him as follows: He has for several years been a great sufferer from asthma, and for five or six years has not been able to lie down in bed and sleep, but has been compelled to woe the god of sleep in a reclining position. A month or so since he had an attack of a gripe, which gave him a very lively tussle, as he was quite sick with it. But since his recovery from this disease he has not had any asthmatic troubles and can now stretch himself flat in bed and sleep as sweetly as an infant, something, as already stated, that he has not been able to do for six years. Whether it will prove a permanent cure of his troubles remains to be seen, but up to date his experience has been most satisfactory.

TROUBLE IN THE MOON.

A Virginia Professor Sees Great Physical Disturbances in That Body.

Prof. J. L. Ray, who has been for some months past closely studying the physical condition of his telescope, now comes to the front with a statement of a startling discovery of recent terrible volcanic action in our long-considered-dead satellite, says an Ashland (Va.) correspondent of the Atlantic Constitution.

For some months past he has been of the opinion that volcanic action on the moon, if it has been extinct, is not now, even though he could not supply reasons by the nebular hypothesis. "On the night of June 23," says Prof. Ray, "my theory was confirmed as I gazed upon our once quiet and modest Luna, evidencing tremendous energy over her whole surface which presented itself. I saw that what had been before been considered great gray plains are in reality great seas of molten mass, as I saw immense sheets, seeming of water, thrown through the lunarian atmosphere and finding a resting place at least a thousand miles from where they formerly were. I saw several great mountains sink—the whole moon swayed to and fro, and everything in the lunar heavens was in the wildest confusion. I gazed with the most intense awe upon this awful spectacle for hours, until the confusion finally subsided and there seemed to be a dead calm as before. I feel fully confident that the moon was thrown several degrees out of her course, and she is also perceptibly nearer, perhaps 20,000 miles."

"Now, how this affects the natural order of things I cannot tell, but as the revolution of the moon is caused by an instantaneous force hurling our satellite into space and the constant attraction of the earth, then if this constant force of the attraction of the earth increases as the square of the distance decreases, and this instantaneous force remains the same, we see that the two no longer balance, and this harmonious action of forces would be destroyed and the moon will finally come directly to earth, and terrible will be the crash."

"So it may be that in the near future our satellite and the earth will unite and become one, as they were once before, some time in the history of the universe, far back in eternity."

The Value of Lemons.

[Chicago Herald.]

A writer who seeks to mitigate the suffering caused by excessively hot weather by describing how to make simple and cooling drinks suitable for the summer season incidentally pays a tribute to the great virtue of the lemon, and a medical authority has promptly written a letter confirming this commendation of the cooling fruit, and urging its more frequent use in lieu of strong medicines, which often do more harm than good. He says that, although most people know the value of a glass of lemonade before breakfast, a better way to fight a bilious attack than powders or quinine is to take the juice of one, two or three lemons in as much water as will make it pleasant to drink without sugar before going to bed. In the morning on rising, at least half an hour before breakfast, take the juice of one lemon in a tumbler of ordinary or soda water.

Cast of a Pompeian Girl.

Charles A. Dana, of the New York Sun, has just come back from another trip to Europe. "The most beautiful thing that I saw," said he to a New York Press interviewer, "was the body of a young girl in Pompeii. She lay face downward, with her head resting on a cushion, perfectly preserved. The accident which tipped out a city did not disturb her. The ashes from the volcano settled down on her, packed with the weight of centuries, and when with time her body had crumbled to a handful of dust, the ashes and powder from the volcano formed a perfect mold of her form. Of this mold the marvelously skillful men working at the restoration of the dead city have taken a cast, which I saw. The young girl, who might have been 20 years old, was clad in a single garment. No more beautiful form was ever imagined by a sculptor."

Fruit in Missouri.

A floating market says that a tomato 21 inches in circumference and 7 inches in diameter was brought into Versailles, Mo., last week. It weighs a pound and a half and is only equaled by an apple raised near Kidder, which weighed the same and is 16 inches in circumference.

LEGAL

Alias Summons.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE County of Los Angeles, State of California:—Mary H. Banning, plaintiff, vs. A. G. Hinckley, Jennie H. Hinckley, Jessie Corker, Theodore Schultz, L. Lion, S. H. Mott, W. S. Boyd, Edward Tring and P. S. Dusenberg, defendants.

The people of the State of California send greeting to A. G. Hinckley, Jennie H. Hinckley, Jessie Corker, Theodore Schultz, L. Lion, S. H. Mott, W. S. Boyd, Edward Tring and P. S. Dusenberg, defendants.

You are hereby required to appear in an action at law, and you, the above-named plaintiff in the superior court of the county of Los Angeles, State of California, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) if served within this county; or, if served elsewhere, within ten days, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of this court for the foreclosure of two certain mortgages and a complaint of alienation. One executed by A. G. Hinckley on or about January 21, 1888, to Mary H. Banning, to secure the payment of a promissory note, for the sum of $1,000, due on or before January 1, 1888, together with interest thereon at the rate of thirteen per cent per annum, and the other compounded.

Said mortgage is recorded in book 145 of mortgages, at page 7, records of the Los Angeles County. The other executed on or about January 21, 1888, by the said A. G. Hinckley to Mary H. Banning, was given as additional security to secure the payment of a sum which was not $200, described in first mortgage. Said second mortgage is recorded in book 200 at page 50 of mortgages, records of Los Angeles.

Plaintiff alleges that no part of the principal sum of said mortgage has been paid since it was given, and will be paid on the 20th day of July, 1892. And that the whole of the principal sum, together with interest, will be paid on or about the 20th day of July, 1892.

Plaintiff seeks also to recover the sum of six dollars, attorney's fees in said action, and costs of suit.

Plaintiff asks that the premises conveyed by said mortgage be sold at public auction, and the proceeds of sale be applied to the payment of the several amounts alleged to be due plaintiff as aforesaid. And in case the proceeds of such sums are not sufficient to pay the several amounts to be paid to plaintiff, to obtain judgment against the defendant, A. G. Hinckley, for any deficiency that may remain on account of said note and mortgage.

The premises conveyed by said mortgages are in fee and below city elevation, and as follows:—Situate in the city of Los Angeles, county of Los Angeles, State of California, and being lots ten and eleven, in block one of the Brooklyn avenue subdivision, as described on a map or plat of said tract recorded in book 3, page 316 of miscellaneous records, Los Angeles, Cal.

Also lots fifty-seven and fifty-eight of the Brooklyn subdivision of lots 33, 34 and 35 of block 22, Brooklyn avenue, as described on a map thereof recorded in book 10, page 51, miscellaneous records, in the office of the recorder of Los Angeles.

It is alleged that the defendants other than said A. G. Hinckley have, or claim to have, some interest, legal or equitable, in the said property, or some right, but that such claims are subject to a subordinate to plaintiff's said mortgage.

Plaintiff's cause of action is had to the complaint for particulars.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the complaint as aforesaid, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Given under the hand and the seal of the superior court of the county of Los Angeles, State of California, this 10th day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and one.

T. H. WARD, Clerk.

By A. W. SAYER, Deputy, Chapman & Hendrick, Attorneys for Plaintiff.

The residence of Capt. F. J. Cressley, No. 512 West Ninth street, was burglarized last night while the family were absent at the beach. The thieves forced an entrance through the back door, when they ransacked the entire house, carrying off all the money, jewels and other valuables that the couple in their hands. The full amount of the loss can only be determined by a careful examination to find out what is missing.

Poor old Holmes, the chronic drunk who was sentenced to pay a fine of $300 for stealing an overcoat from the Health Commission, was given a chance to leave town by Justice Austin, was again lodged in jail early yesterday morning. The old fellow started out of town, but he struck a saloon on the road and was soon on his way back. In a short time he was gloriously drunk, and landed in jail, as usual.

D. MITCHELL M'DONALD.

His Relations with the Central Bank of Toronto, Canada.

Suit Brought Against Him for $161,531.60
 —A Statement That Makes Some Very Interesting Reading.

The Evening News of Toronto of recent date contains the following about a resident of Los Angeles:

Acting for George Hogboom, the purchaser of the unrealized assets of the Central Bank, McDonald, Millar, Le Vescont & Son, who engaged a law office of Waln D. Mitchell McDonald, the whilom director of the defunct institution, setting up a claim of $161,531.60. The statement of claim has been filed, and by this time the defendant has probably been served with the summons. The claim is for $161,531.60. The statement of claim is most interesting.

The opening ball of the season at the Redondo Hotel Saturday night was largely attended by prominent Los Angeles citizens. The music was superb and the ballroom a scene of enjoyment throughout the evening.

The store of M. E. Frankel at Downey was burglarized Saturday night. An entrance was effected through the back door, and a sum amount of cash stolen, together with some hardware and other merchandise were also taken, and the safe was broken open.

The funeral of Rev. Peter Warner, who died on Friday, took place at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the M. E. Church on St. Louis street. The services were conducted by deceased's pastor, Rev. Dr. Jenkins of the East Los Angeles Congregational Church. Members of the G.A.R. attended in a body.

The officers and members of the Odd Fellows lodge at Burden, Kan., recently passed resolutions extending sympathy to the wife and children of S. C. Miller, who was made to suffer the Star trials in the Southern Pacific yards in this city several weeks ago. The deceased was formerly a resident of Burden.
